Xshell License Agreement & Privacy Policy

This license agreement and privacy policy applies to the registered version of Xshell.

License Agreement
Carefully read the following terms and conditions before using this software. Your use of this software indicates your acceptance of this license agreement. No component part of any version of Xshell may be distributed individually, disassembled, copied, reverse engineered, or altered in any form.

Registered Version
Standard Licensing
One registered copy of Xshell may be used by a single person who uses the software personally on up to three devices. No other person may use or have access to Xshell unless that person has a license of their own.

-or-

One registered copy of Xshell may be installed on a single machine used non-simultaneously by multiple people. Once installed, the registered copy is tied to that machine. You may access a registered version of Xshell through a network, provided that you have obtained individual licenses for the software covering all workstations that access the software through the network. For instance, if five different workstations will access Xshell on the network, each workstation must have its own Xshell license, regardless of whether they use Xshell at different times or concurrently.

A registered license cannot be attributed to both use cases outlined above and must only be attributed to one of the use cases.

Concurrent Licensing
For registered copies of Xshell (Concurrent Licenses), the total number of simultaneous users accessing Xshell at any given time may not exceed the number of registered concurrent licenses. The licensee must maintain a record of all individuals who will be accessing Xshell at any given time.
